

2018 ADBSS Clinic Grant Report

The Arizona Desert Bighorn Sheep Society wishes to thank AZSFWC for its participation in wildlife conservation. Due to the grant that the sheep society received, we were able to reach out to a great group of hunters, their friends and their families.

The ADBSS clinic was attended by 48 of this years sheep hunters, witch is a better than average turn out. In addition to the hunters, there were 73 guests and a large number of wildlife professionals and representatives from state and federal agencies. A large part of what the sheep society does is educate the public about wildlife conservation, so reaching these hunters and guests was huge success for us.

We were fortunate to have more than 220 banquet attendees where we reinforced the mission of Arizona Sportsman for Wildlife, and made a concerted effort to initiate peoples interest and dedication to conservation and protection of our wildlife. It was incredible to watch these individuals learn what remarkable efforts it takes, from so many groups similar to yourselves, how important wildlife conservation truly is, and how it really takes all of us to do it.

The Arizona Desert bighorn sheep Society will continue to fly the Arizona Sportsman for Wildlife banner at all of our events, and we are looking forward to a continuing this relationship in improving the education and commitment to all public matters concerning wildlife conservation.

Sincerely,

Curt Steinke
Program Director, ADBSS